Latek Elected Council President

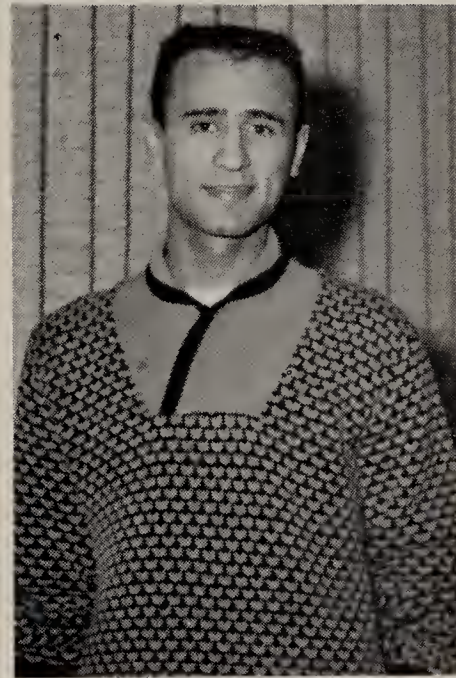

ED LATEK
President

HERMAN JERRY
Vice-President

TOM KUCHTA
Secretary

JULIAN PEREZ
Treasurer

Latek Is First To Cinch Office

Soon after the ballot count began, Vince Chiaro, candidate for president, took the lead. Ed Latek caught up fast and took over the lead, becoming the first candidate to cinch his office in the Student Council elections last week. Latek, who beat his opponent 125 to 73, was then congratulated by several students while the vote count still went on.

After a short while, the remaining candidates also cinched their victories. Herman Jerry defeated George Carter 112 votes to 85 in the race for vice-president. In the race for secretary, which was the closest, Tom Kuchta polled 19 votes more than Mary Stokes, defeating her 108 to 89. Julian Perez, running unopposed for treasurer, collected 187 votes. The difference in the total number of votes for the various offices is attributed to several "no-votes."

Present Student Council President Phil Seroczynski began the proceedings by stating that the ballots would be kept on file. He also said that anyone could re-check the votes at any time.

As each vote was recorded, a number was checked off on the blackboard so it would not be necessary to re-check the votes several times. This system proved more efficient and effective than systems used in the past.

Latek Presents First Statement

"We must now look forward to 1962-63 with enthusiasm and a desire to make this year a most profitable and interesting one for this school. Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center can be confident of a year of growth beginning next September. This can be attained by an uplifting in school spirit. This spirit was displayed during the two weeks preceding the election. I am sure that it can continue to rise if the Student Council endeavors to reach its goals set out in each candidate's platform. The Student body can rest assured that each new Student Council officer will strive undyingly to make his platform a reality.

"I would like to thank all those who displayed their confidence in me at the ballot box, and I do promise now that I am in office that I will put all my heart into my job and will strive to work with the student body, the Student Council, and the administration in close unity and harmony in order that Saint Joseph's can and will continue to grow in 1962-63. I would also like to thank ALL who displayed their school spirit by voting and ask even those who did not participate in exercising their right to vote to prove that they are interested in the future of this school by taking an active interest in next year's activities.

Father Smolar's Easter Message

Easter is radiant with the glory of the Risen Savior. At no other time of the Ecclesiastical year do the Church bells ring out so solemnly, does the singing sound more joyous; and the Alleluja is never-ending; the house of God is resplendent with the most beautiful decorations; and the priests ascend the altar, clad in the most festal vestments. Upon all who were permitted to see the Risen Lord, there was poured forth a stream of cheerfulness and happiness, of peace and consolation. It is our sincere wish and prayer that we all be united in joy over this great honor of our Lord and find abundant cheer, happiness, peace, and consolation.

BILL O'MALLEY is not the only one who had a tough time deciding for whom to vote. All the candidates were well qualified.

Art Students To Show Works

On April 15, Purdue Extension in Hammond will hold an art exhibit open to the public. Students from Indiana University, Gary and East Chicago centers, Purdue, and St. Joseph's College Calumet Center will display their work. Last year Purdue also held an exhibit and Saint Joseph's College took all but two awards given.

Miss Spuehler, instructor in fine arts, stated, "This year chances are even better than ever for bringing home the bacon." With the increased enrollment of her art class there will be approximately sixty entries. The entry fee is one dollar for every three entries.

The art students are proud to enter their work in the Purdue Exhibit. This enables their work to be judged by a group of professional jurors. If the students take an award or an honorable mention, they have a great feeling of achievement.

Loyola University, after hearing of the Fine Arts Department at St. Joseph's College, asked the students to display their work in the Loyola library for the entire month of May.

COMMERCE CLUB PLANS CHANGED

The Commerce Club trip to Schlitz Brewery in Milwaukee, scheduled for April 5, was called off. Club President Jerry Stano stated that not enough students signed up to warrant chartering a bus.

To replace that outing, the Club has planned a trip to International Harvester, West Pullman Works, in Chicago. This trip takes place Thursday, April 12.

"Special Occasion" Set For May 12

"Special Occasion" is the name which has been chosen for the coming dinner dance sponsored by the senior class of Saint Margaret Hospital School of Nursing. Scheduled for May 12, the affair will be held at the Woodmar Country Club from 7 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

The evening will begin with a cocktail hour. At 8 p.m. dinner will be served. Immediately following the dinner, this year's prom king and queen will be chosen. The queen will be selected from the senior nursing class, and the king will be chosen from the staff doctors. Guests will dance to the music of Pat De Mure and his orchestra. Enhancing the evening will be a grand march at 11 p.m.

Donations are $12 per couple. Women are asked to wear cocktail attire and the men are expected to wear suits. Since reservations are limited, all interested are asked to purchase invitations without delay. Student nurse representatives will set up a booth on the evening of April 16 at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center for students who wish to obtain tickets.

ROLL-OFF TO BE HELD

The roll-offs for first and second place for last semester's trophy awards will take place Sunday, April 15. They will be held at Castaways, where the league usually bowls, at 3 p.m.

The Alley Angels will compete against the Alley Wreckers. Members of the Angels are: Tom Cardis, Bob Kearney, Wally Keilman, and Janet Yuss. They will bowl against Harry Bigda, Bob Jennings, Judy Kantz, and Mike Quinn of the wreckers.

The Maple Maulers were awarded third place honors, Sunday April 8. Members of the Maulers team are: Paul Mika, Dave Relinski, Ernie Roth, and Mary Strycula.

Freshmen Assume Tocyap Drive

After looking for a project to sponsor, the freshman class decided upon selecting an orphan to support in Chicago. When Betty Burch heard of their plan, she suggested that they take over the Claro Tocyap Drive instead.

Freshman President Scott Boyett thought it was a good idea, and the other officers approved. They also decided to keep this drive a class project until they graduate in 1965.

Plans now call for a magazine drive to be held this summer. Old issues of such Catholic magazines as Extension, Information, and Catholic Digest will be collected and redeemed.

The class will soon hold a meeting to see in which other ways it can raise money. This meeting will probably be held after the final examinations.

All those interested in helping with the drive are asked to contact Scott Boyett. Any help and opinions will be appreciated.

Class Officers To Be Elected

The class elections are being held in a different manner than those held last week for Student Council. The class officers contacted all eligible members of their own class to see if they would run for an office and if so, which one. The list of eligible students were compiled by the office.

After all eligible students were contacted, a new list of those wishing to run was made by the officers. They were then turned in to Father Smolar's office.

The elections themselves will take place on Thursday and Friday, April 12 and 13. No campaigning will be done nor any speeches made. Instead the class officers will contact their classmates and take the votes. The votes will be tallied Friday, April 13.

Mr. Brinley Guest Speaker

On April 1, Mr. Donald Brinley, Instructor in philosophy at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center, was guest speaker at the Annual Founders' Day Banquet of Valparaiso Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Brinley spoke on what it means to be a member of the people of God, or a layman. He explained what a layman is and how the word originated from a Greek word meaning people.

In the process of explaining, Mr. Brinley showed how the people of God had their origin from the promise of Abraham, who was told he was to be a father of a great nation. He quoted two other Old Testament tracts: that of the experience of Jews being freed from Egypt and finally the Covenant of God on Mount Sinai.

In conclusion, Mr. Brinley said in order to be a good layman you must live by these three tracts along with the commandments.

Project Postponed Till Next Year

Commenting on the proposed "At Random" discussion group, Student Council President Phil Seroczynski explained that the group will probably not meet this year. "I had hopes," he explained, "that next year's Council would work with the present Administration and conduct a couple of meetings this year. It is not feasible to meet this semester because of the loss of time resulting from the Council election postponement."

Tocyap Thanks Center Students

Dear Students,

This is to thank you very sincerely for the gift that you have heartily sent me. Though these words cannot sufficiently express my feeling of gratefulness for your deep exceptional kindness, God will surely supplement the rest with His powerful graces through my daily prayers. You can be sure that He will grant you great reward when we will come to His Vineyard at the clash of this world.

My prayerful thanks and best regards to all the student body of Saint Joseph's College!

In Christ sincerely,
Claro Tocyap

Bobby Christian Will Entertain At Michi Yuki

Four schools in the Calumet area have contributed much effort and time to this year's University Ball. The dance, Michi Yuki, (Journey of Love) will be held on June 2 at the Hammond National Guard Armory. Entertainment will be provided by Bobby Christian's orchestra. It will begin at 8 p.m. and last until midnight. This orchestra is widely renowned among universities throughout the nation. They have played at Notre Dame, Indiana, Purdue, Michigan, and Wisconsin universities.

Last year almost 600 people attended the University Ball. This year a much larger crowd is expected.

Tickets may be purchased from any Student Council member.

Guests may be invited, but the student who extends the invitation is responsible for their conduct.

"Our council of this year has a special interest in the dance because this is the second year it is working on it," commented Mr. Lazur. "The Council believes that this year the Ball will be better than last year's."

Librarian Issues Overdue Book Reminder

Miss Viltis Vaichunas, Center Librarian, reminds those students who have overdue books to return them. The fine grows each day books are kept past the due date.

She also states that books have been checked out from the reserve shelf on the overnight privilege and not returned the next morning according to library regulations. If this type of abuse of the overnight privilege continues, Miss Vaichunas said it may result in the refusal by the library to continue to grant this courtesy. She asks that all students who have reserve books to return them immediately.

Meet the Faculty

"I felt that my business experience could be valuable to students in helping them understand the free enterprise system and its real moral values," stated Mr. Irving L. Lewin, Lecturer in business at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center.

After graduating from Roosevelt High School in East Chicago, Mr. Lewin attended Indiana University where he earned his B.S. in business administration. He then did graduate work at Northwestern University.

Mr. Lewin

This Lecturer has been on Saint Joseph's Board of Directors for three years. He began his teaching career here last fall.

While in college he was a member of the Sigma Alpha U Fraternity and was a member of the Indiana University marching band.

His hobby being music, Mr. Lewin plays the French horn, violin, and organ. "As for vacations," he commented, "I have never been out of the United States and I do not intend to leave it before I see all of it first."

Receiving the Young Man's Award presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, he also received the American Legion Meritorious Service Award from Post 93.

He feels that if students are eager for knowledge, America can count on remaining a leader in the world.

President of the East Chicago School Board, Mr. Lewin is also the Lake County Director of the March of Dimes and Chairman of Saint Joseph's Board of Trustees. He is past president of the East Chicago Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest, and Lion's Club, past District Governor of Indiana Lion's State Association, and the past Exalted Ruler of the Elks Club.

"I believe that today's students," remarked Mr. Lewin, "will look back in their later life and say 'I was one of the first students at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center' for someday," he continued, "I expect this school to be considered a leader in the field of education. I base this belief," he further asserted, "on the type of leadership and influence that is now prevalent in our faculty and in the Society of Precious Blood that runs our institution."

Correction Made On Name of Ball

Student Council President Phil Seroczynski corrected a SHAVINGS statement about the University Ball. It was announced that the theme of the Ball would be "Michayuka" (Night of Love), but the correct theme is "Michi Yuki" (Journey of Love).

Strikes & Spares

April 1

The first place Wallopers continued on their merry way by sweeping a three game set from the Pin-Men who were in second place. If things continue the Wallopers could be the surprise team in this league.

The Bombers again took it on the chin for the third straight week. They dropped two of three games to the Thumpers who regained second place.

Next week the first place Wallopers will face the Bombers and the Thumpers play the Pin-Men.

George Carter led the individual bowlers for high game with 208. George was followed by Bruno Marszowski, 200, and Dave Relinski with 198. High series went to Bruno Marszowski with a 535. Second and third spot for high series went to Dave Relinski, 523, and George Carter, 514.

The "Booby Prize" of the week goes to Al Stisser who rolled an anemic 107. He was challenged by teammate Paul Mika who stumbled through a 109 game. Low series also goes to Al Stisser, 336.

April 8

Sunday, April 8, the first place Wallopers dropped their second game of the season. Even so, they increased their lead over their nearest competitors. They took two of three games from the Bombers in a really grueling series. Almost every member bowled over average. The Wallopers finished with a 709 series. They lost only one game, and that was by a margin of only four pins.

Individually, it was a good day for most of the bowlers. Many of the bowlers reached their semester high in both games and series.

Bruno Marszowski led all bowlers for high game with an even 200. He had many right behind him. Tom Cardis rolled a 197 for second high, and he also had a 187. George Carter had a 193, Paul Mika, a 191, Bruno Marszowski again with a 193, Vince Chiaro, a 188, and Al Stisser, 183.

There were four members who rolled 500 or better. Tom Cardis led the way, with a 563, followed by Bruno Marszowski with a 546, George Carter, a 513, and Wally Keilman, a 506.

Journalism Final Proves Unusual

It was recently announced to the students of journalism 11-A that for part of their final examination each would take over the editorship of SHAVINGS for one of the issues published March 29 through April 26.

These four students, Dan Lowry, Kathy Mullaney, Mary Strycula, and Ron Sutch, must each perform all processes necessary for the printing of the paper. These processes consist of gathering news worthy articles and correcting all errors in manuscript. After this is completed, the article appears in print on what is called a galley sheet. These, too, must be corrected and having finished this, the editor cuts one copy of the galleys and places it in the order he wishes to have it appear in the paper. After this, the printer makes a page proof from the layout given him by the editor. This also must be corrected for errors, and when all mistakes are corrected, the editor signs his name to the page proof and it is then printed.

Thus far three of the four students have completed the work. The March 29 edition was edited by Kathy Mullaney, April 2, by Mary Strycula, April 12, by Ron Sutch and the edition of April 26 will be edited by the regular SHAVINGS editor, Dan Lowry.

SHAVINGS commends the present Student Council for its efficient and orderly running of the Council elections. The candidates, too, deserve credit for clean campaigning. And while students are being lauded, those who registered and voted should also be given "pats on the back" for their responsibility in school affairs.

The campaign speeches brought out many colorful ideas and promises by the candidates. Many of the ideas were big ideas, several of them new.

It will be the intention of SHAVINGS, not to be "on the candidates back" as such, but rather to offer constructive criticism, to point out lax members of the council, and to give praise where praise is due.

Above all, SHAVINGS will be doing its best to keep an accurate account of the things the Council is doing and those which it is not.

We hope that the best men have been elected to office, not for our sake, nor for theirs, but for the sake of entire student body of Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center.

Further, we hope that the school spirit sparked by the campaigns and elections will remain strong and will grow among those who have not yet become interested in school affairs.

Mr. Donald Horn Addresses Students

On Wednesday, April 4, members of the retail sales class and Commerce Club heard Mr. Donald Horn speak on retail selling and personnel management. He was introduced by Mr. John Quinn, operating manager of Wieboldt's Department Store located in Chicago at Harlem and Irving Avenues.

Mr. Horn rose from personnel manager to operating manager in a short time. He manages Wieboldt's West Side store.

Mr. Horn

He graduated from Missouri University and received his master's degree from the University of Arkansas. His only previous sales experience was Christmas work which he did before he was hired by Wieboldt's. He credits his rise in the organization to the excellent training program of Wieboldt's.

He stated that there are good opportunities for students in retail sales. But one the thing that must be kept in mind is that executives frown upon specialization in retail sales. They feel the most important thing is a liberal arts education.

He went on to say that liking people is essential to being successful in retail selling. Ability to get along with people is the most important factor for success.

There are certain requirements need to hold a supervisory position: first, one must get along with people in such a way as to bring out their best capabilities; second, one must start at the bottom in the organization. One must have had some experience in selling. The customer sets the tone in selling. Yet if one does not know how to handle customers, one can't succeed in retailing.

The most important job in personnel management is to act as a host to all the people who come into the store. The personnel manager is required to screen people who apply for jobs. He also is required to develop a plan for training these individuals.

NO SHAVINGS NEXT WEEK

Because classes will not be held on Holy Thursday, April 19, SHAVINGS will not be published. The following issue, that of April 26, will be the last issue for this semester.

Superstitious? Who...Me?

Seymour Doolittle III

Once more Seymour mounts the podium to be the most "wanted" writer on the SHAVINGS staff. This may sound egotistical, but it isn't meant to be that way. It means that there are a number of students who would love to know who I am. These certain people are only the ones who have something to hide.

I would like to say that I was very pleased with the enthusiasm that was shown during the campaigns and the elections. Therefore, I will refrain from commenting on the candidates in any manner that they would dislike. But so much for the "goodie, goodie" news.

It seems that everyone had a "swinging time" at Ed Latek's campaign party on April Fool's Day. I noticed that George Nissan made a big impression that night. He only twisted one time, but everyone sat up and took notice when he gave his debut and his encore. You're quite a "twister" George. And by the way readers don't underestimate Al Anselmo, he looked like a regular Arthur Murray out there on the dance floor.

I know that you St. Joe students are generous and willing to help a friend in need. Well, the other day poor "Trigger" was walking around with a hat trying to collect money. So if you have any extra care packages laying around home, why don't you be a "good samaritan" and donate them to "Trigger's" cause. Let's help a fellow student get back on his feet again. By the way, "Trigger" donated the money to the Toc-yap fund.

I have been asking various students which instructor is giving the worst exams this semester, and many of them have been answering me with, "Apparently you don't have history, do you?" Now what in the world can they mean by that remark?

Apparently we have a new student here at St. Joe's. For the last two weeks all I have heard around school is the name J. Alfred Prufrock. Who is this new boy and what is his major?

Latek Throws Victory Party

Ed Latek, victor in the race for Student Council president, threw a victory party Saturday night, April 7. Planning it at the last minute, Ed is sorry he didn't get to see all those he would have liked to have invited. Most of the candidates and their campaign managers were there.

Refreshments were served all evening, but Ed's mother waited to serve sandwiches until after midnight for the benefit of those over 21 who must observe the Lenten rules.

Besides the usual dances such as the cha-cha and the twist, several guests demonstrated the limbo. Most of the party-goers agreed that Larry Love is most adept at the limbo. Also demonstrating their limbo skill were Bob Horn, Ed Latek, Ernie Roth, and Ted Warzynski.

This was the second party given by Ed within two weeks. The first was in the school lounge on April 1 to give students an idea of the type of get-together which was part of his platform.

Is it true what I hear about Miss Viachunas concerning the rumor that her card catalog is really a file of all the St. Joe students and their personalities. If so, then I won't have to snoop around for tidbits for this column. I can get all the information I need right in the library.

Oh, I almost forgot to remind you, if you're in Chicago during the month of May, stop in at the Loyola Library and take a look at OUR student art display. Also try to make it your business to spend a few minutes Sunday, April 15th, in the Purdue Calumet Center lounge observing the art exhibit. Give our art students your support; they deserve it.

Well I'll see you next week, for right now I have to get back to my big problem, which is the following: IS SEYMOUR DOOLITTLE A SMALL COLUMN DONE IN A BIG WAY, or A BIG COLUMN DONE IN A BIG WAY?

Friday the 13th

In 1962, Friday the 13th occurs only twice, in April and July. This may sound insignificant to most people, but to many it is a day to be aware of. As soon as something goes wrong, they place the blame on the fact that it is Friday the 13th. The belief in it being an unlucky day dates back to the days of the alchemists. It takes its place on "superstition row" alongside black cats and walking under ladders. Friday the 13th is used just as a conversation piece among most people, and it is customary to blame all the unfortunate things on this day. Thus the legend has grown through the years. But of course those of us who know better know that the date has nothing to do with our lives; we know it is just fate. DON'T WE?

Center.

Presently a sociology major with a minor in business, Joe plans to transfer to Indiana University the fall, where he will take a pre-medical course.

Joe is one of three sophomores who attempted to call Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last fall to discuss some matters with him. According to Joe, they reached the interpreter in the Kremlin, but because of difficulties, never reached Khrushchev himself.

Planning to return before the start of the second six week session, Joe hopes to travel and work his way through the Northwest this summer.

JIM TOBOLSKI, Sophomore—"Last year I went to Fort Lauderdale over Easter vacation. When we drove into the city at three o'clock in the morning, this was the most beautiful sight I had ever seen in my life."

BILL HALASCHAK, Junior—"Theagara Falls."
